A true Pan-European partnership

30 organizations in 11 countries

- An ever-increasing demand for transnational work placements
- Those working in the domain of student mobility often lack the means and methods for organizing/coordinating transnational work placements
- Little cooperation between the different work placement parties
- No European Resource Centres for work placements in Europe

- A compilation and evaluation of resources: methods, guides, software, websites, etc.
- A consideration of European legislation affecting trainee status, and recommendations
- A study for the development of Resource and Expertise Centres for transnational work placements.

Improve and facilitate the organization of European work placements

- Strengthen cooperation between the various student mobility players
- Improve the professionalism of work placement organization within Europe
- Improve the quality of transnational placements
- Improve student employability

September 2007:
an Internet portal will present the partnership's work:
